

I have a master's in economics.

I have a wife and three kids.

I have alcohol and gambling addiction.

But most of all... I have hope.

I started drinking and gambling in college. And you know what they say: old habits die hard. One day, my boss confronted me about my unacceptable tardiness and work production. I was coming to work under the influence every day. But he told me I could keep my job if I got treatment.

I got the help I needed. And today, I'm Back on Track.
